

Help me!

Dear Auntie,

I'm really struggling with temptation. All my friends are doing some things that I know I shouldn't be doing, but I just can't seem to stop myself joining in. I've tried really hard not to – I've made excuses not to go out with them, I've tried to fill my life with other things instead, I've even thought about moving schools! Nothing works. What should I do?

Dear Auntie,

My family are driving me nuts. My Mum always seems to be going on at me to do this, tidy that, don't forget the other. My Dad just sticks up for her all the time, which makes me crazy. And my little sister is soooooo annoying. The worst thing is that I get really mad with them all and always seem to wind up yelling at them (or hitting my sister). I even swore at my Mum last week. I don't like being that way – I just don't know how I can change. Any advice?

Dear Auntie,

I'm a Christian and I really love God, but I have a problem – no one at school knows. I know I should tell my friends, but I keep chickening out. I guess I'm afraid that they'll make fun of me or won't like me anymore. I do want to make a stand for God so please help.
